TREASURY

StockTreasury is providing stock ledger platform for Delaware corporations.

The service digitizes the shares and keeps track of who owns which shares. Furthermore, it allows shareholders to access and transfer shares in an online environment. All that is backed up by quantum proof blockchain network powered by Guardtime.

- Share digitalization with a few clicks;
- Share transfers instantly;
- Secure online environment achieved through trusted technology:
 - Stock transactions leave an immutable trace weaved into blockchain.
 - Share transactions have to be approved by a shareholder's digital signature.
 - digital signatures and timestamps based on a next generation robust cryptography.
- Quantum proof back end technology;
- Data backups held offline.
- Blockchain provided by Guardtime for auditability.

Be in Charge

StockTreasury takes digital custody on a whole new level of control and speed. Corporations are able to provide direct stock ownership to its shareholders without costly middle-men. The shares are available 24/7 through direct and safe access. Shares can be received, held and transferred online.

All actions stored in the stock ledger are auditable. The data can be verified without the need for a trusted authority.

Single point service

Person-to-person share transfers

Auditability

No need to involve third party service providers

Be Prepared

Quantum proof KSI® blockchain

Digital identification based on elliptic curve cryptography

The cryptography behind StockTreasury guarantees that the blockchain never expires and remains quantum-immune, i.e. secure even after the realization of quantum computation.

StockTreasury infrastructure adapts to changes, such as an increase in transaction requests. It automatically scales to meet the demands of thousands of corporations running millions of transfers.
